

At the turnoff from Highway 1 down near the Karratha Roadhouse. Brand new road.

There's 90km of new road on the way to Millstream. Almost all to yourself.

Then the seal ends just before meeting the road up from Roebourne via Python Pool.

Crossing Pool on the Fortesque River is a great, warm, bath of a swim. And a good camping spot.

The Hamersley Range as you leave M-C National Park.

Some rolling country, great riding.

This road is pretty good to ride with the right, fat, tyres.

Almost at the park, heading up Rio Tinto Gorge. Where's the river?

Guess we must be in the Pilbara.

Just about to drop down to Hamersley Gorge.

That's looking the other way. Pilbera? You are standing in it.

Hamersley Gorge. That part is OK.

Rock folded like plasticine, Hamersley Gorge.

Nice swimming at Hamersley Gorge down here.

The road around to the more populated parts of the park.

Oxer Lookout is a surprise. Where four gorges meet.

The famous Spider Walk in Handcock Gorge. The bike didn't come down here.

More Handcock Gorge.

Kermit's Pool in Handcock Gorge is refreshing.

Then there's Handrail Pool in Weano Gorge.

The National Park info centre.

Rocks in Dale's Gorge.

Fern Pool is unmarked on the map at the top of Dales Gorge.

Dales Gorge.

A friendly looking dingo.

Top of Dales Gorge.

Leaving Karijini and heading off to Newman.
